

Darkness. All around.

For a precious weekend,
there were light.

But the light left
on a train to Oslo.

Darkness is all around
everywhere i go.
we all search for a small lightsource
to warm on.

I found that lightsource
in reunion with friends

but they're gone
with the precious light.
And all that is left
is darkness.