

I want to be remembered as a flower,
which shines of all I have gone through.
I want to be strong as a tower,
when I see the world in my eyes so blue.
I want to have seen all I wanted.
I want to have done something good.
But also have laughed on my passage,
and learned everything that I should.